Form 990, Part XI, Line 1 - Change in Accounting Method Explanation

One of the Chamber's major funding sources is tax revenue received from the City for SSA annual activities. The accounting for these funds differs due to the accounting principles established by each industry's accounting authority.

The Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) establishes generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP) for public, private and non-profit entities, of which the Chamber falls under.

The Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB) establishes GAAP for local and state governments, of which the City (SSA funding source) falls under.

Under GASB, tax revenue is recognized when taxes are levied against (billed to) the property. Under FASB tax revenue can justifiably be recognized before the property is levied. In illustration, many taxpayers sale their homes prior to the year of levy but pay a prorated share of the eventual tax upon the property being sold; FASB would recognize this revenue in the year of sale, hence tax levy assessed. However, because GASB seeks to match revenue to the government's budget of a particular period, revenues are recognized when tax levies are billed to property tax owners for that period.

In the past, the Chamber recorded an asset, Tax Levy Assessed in the current year for taxes to be levied in the following year for budgeting purposes. To more appropriately match tax revenues with approved SSA annual activities (budget), the Chamber will recognize tax revenue when tax levies are made as established by GASB. The change is effective January 1, 2009. The cumulative effect on prior years was charged to 2009 beginning Net Assets. It was not practicable to determine the pro forma effect on the financial statements of applying the new change retroactively.
